

Prayer to the Ancestors

Ajuba to all my departed blood relatives.

I call to you my ancestors on my mother's side:

Name all the ancestors whose names you know saying each name three times.

I call to you my ancestor's on my father's side:

Name all the ancestors whose names you know saying each name three times.

I call on you all the ancestors whose names I do not know but whose blood flows through my veins, all the ancestors whose names I do not know but whose blood flows through my veins, all the ancestors whose names I do not know but whose blood flows through my veins.

I call to the (name the ancestor, or male/female on mother's/ father's side, if you don't know just use the phrase that follows on its own ) ancestor who is my primary guardian in this life-time, the ancestor who is my primary guardian in this life-time, the ancestor who is my primary guardian in this life-time.

Please accept my offerings.

Please accept this water so that you may be cool and comfortable.

Please accept this light, and energy, so that you may have brightness and strength.

Add any additional offerings, asking your ancestors to accept them, and stating your intention with each offering.

While I've missed your presence here on earth, I gather strength, and wisdom, from your continued energy and guidance.

May that guidance continue to open my paths and roads and the paths and roads of those I love.

May your strength and energy give health to me and those I love.

May your wisdom bring love and prosperity into my home.

Add anything here you would like to ask for.

Give thanks to your ancestors for everything they have brought to your life (i.e. the talents and abilities carried in your DNA) and for the love, support and protection that they give you.

Ase! Ase! Ase!
